BACKGROUND

The preferences options page is a pivotal feature of our website, aimed at tailoring the user experience to individual needs and preferences. By offering choices between a simplified or modernized layout and indicating age groups, particularly those over 50 years old, we ensure inclusivity and user satisfaction. This approach is grounded in demographic research and user behavior studies, recognizing that different age groups often have distinct preferences when it comes to website design and functionality.

WHY 50 YEARS OLD?

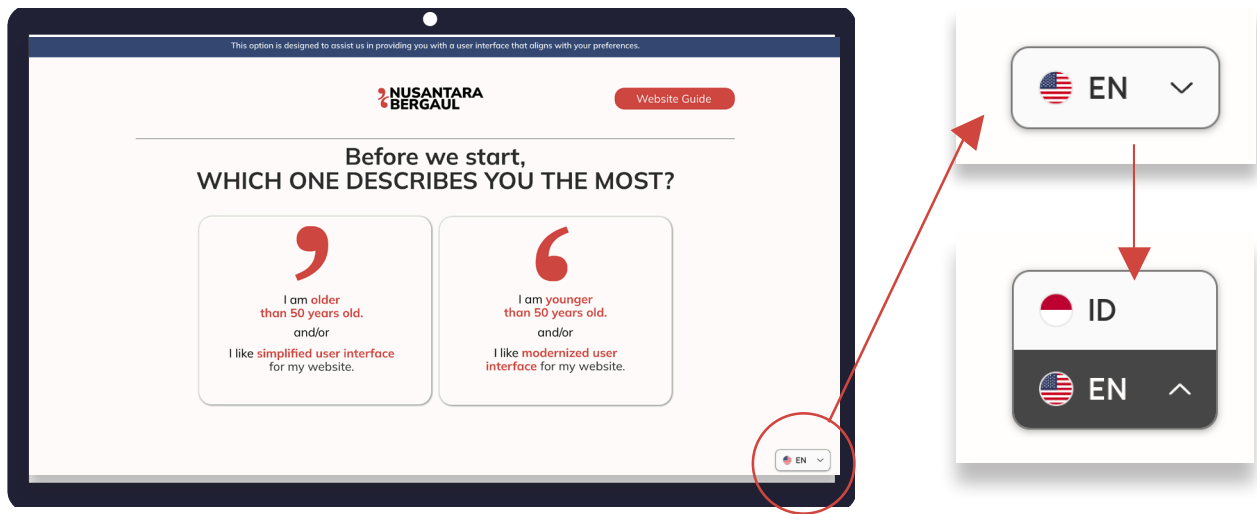

The decision to include an age threshold of 50 years old reflects the varying levels of tech familiarity and comfort within different demographics. Older users often prefer simplified layouts with clear navigation, while younger users typically gravitate towards modern, visually appealing designs. The preferences options page acknowledges these differences and empowers users to select the interface style that best suits their preferences, enhancing their browsing experience from the outset.

BACKGROUND

The language switch feature offers users the option to toggle between Indonesian and English languages to accommodate diverse linguistic preferences and needs. The inclusion of English as a language option stemmed from the creator's university project requirement, which mandated the availability of an English language version. This decision was motivated by the aim to reach a broader audience beyond Indonesia and facilitate accessibility for non-Indonesian speakers, thereby enhancing the

ENGLISH & INDONESIAN

While the English language option fulfills the creator's university project requirement, it's important to note that the primary focus and essence of the website revolve around Indonesian slang language. The Indonesian language remains the cornerstone of the website's content, reflecting its cultural identity and catering to the needs of its primary target audience. As such, the language switch feature underscores the website's commitment to inclusivity and user convenience, allowing individuals to engage with the content in their preferred language while maintaining a strong emphasis on its Indonesian

▶ Affh iyh?

Jargon Phrase

Original: Apa iya?

WHAT IS THE MEANING?
In short:
A playful word commonly used in Indonesian conversations to playfully express skepticism.

More explanation:
First of all, "Affh iyh?" is a slang or colloquial language that has developed among communities in Indonesia. This slang is often used in daily conversations and primary contexts, such as chats between friends, on social media, or in text messages. On the other hand, its simplicity and speed in conveying meaning, making it popular among users of social media communication.

HOW DO THEY USE IT?
The slang term "Affh iyh?" is more commonly used on digital platforms such as social media and online chats.

The usage of "Affh iyh?" can be adjusted according to the context of the conversation. In formal conversations, using "Apa iya" might sound inappropriate, so it's better to use a more formal phrase like "Is that true?" or "Is it so?". However, in casual settings or among friends, "Affh iyh?" is commonly used to convey agreement or trust.

Example 1:
User: fik (taylor's version) @edufikation
Text: "gpp mah, aku gapyear aja, soalnya ada pengalaman dengan soal tahun ini dan sistem utbknya, insya Allah tahun depan lolos"
Response: Kemendikbud : "affh iyh dek?", [mengganti drastis sistem utbk]
